Report on Installation of Sanitary Napkin Vending Machine conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar

Date: 05.07.23

Venue: Ground, Vivek P. G. College, Kalwar

Objectives:

- Provide easy access to sanitary napkins for women and girls
- Promote menstrual hygiene and awareness
- Reduce stigma around menstruation
- Ensure affordability and convenience

Brief Report:

The installation of a sanitary napkin vending machine is a significant step towards improving menstrual hygiene management and ensuring the comfort and well-being of all members of our institution. Researched and selected a reputable vendor for the supply and maintenance of the vending machine. The staff identified strategic locations for the installation of the vending machine, ensuring accessibility and privacy. They launched an information campaign to inform students and staff about the new facility, including how to use the vending machine and the importance of menstrual hygiene. A schedule was implemented for regular maintenance checks to ensure the vending machine remains functional and well-stocked.

Outcomes:

- Increased accessibility to sanitary napkins
- Positive feedback from users on convenience and affordability
- Reported increase in menstrual hygiene practices
- Reduction in stigma around menstruation through awareness campaigns

Report on Tiranga Rally on Independence Day conducted by Vivek P. G. College, Kalwar

Date: 14.08.2023

Venue: Vivek P G College, Kalwar, Jaipur

Objectives:

- Celebrate India's independence and sovereignty
- Foster a sense of national pride and unity
- Promote awareness about India's freedom struggle and its significance
- Encourage community engagement and participation

Brief Report:

The rally commenced with a solemn flag hoisting ceremony conducted by the Principal of Vivek P. G. College, Dr. N. R. Bhakar. The tricolor flag was hoisted high, symbolizing freedom and the spirit of the nation. The national anthem was sung by the attendees, marking the start of the festivities. Following the flag hoisting, the participants, led by a band and enthusiastic college volunteers, embarked on a spirited procession through the streets of Kalwar. The rally featured vibrant displays of the Indian tricolor, with participants waving flags and carrying banners that highlighted messages of unity and patriotism. The rally was complemented by a series of cultural performances at the college grounds. Students presented patriotic songs, dances, and skits that depicted significant moments from India's freedom struggle. These performances were well-received and added a festive touch to the celebrations. Local residents and community leaders joined the rally, enhancing the sense of togetherness. Several speeches were delivered by prominent figures, including the college's principal and local dignitaries, emphasizing the importance of independence and collective responsibility in nation-building. The event concluded with refreshments for all participants. The college also honored several students and staff members for their outstanding contributions to the event, recognizing their efforts in making the rally a success.

Outcomes:

- Successfully promoted patriotism and national pride among participants
- Encouraged community engagement and participation
- Raised awareness about India's freedom struggle and its significance
- Fostered a sense of unity and belonging among students, faculty, and staff

Report on Blood Donation Camp conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar in collaboration with Community Health Centre, Kalwar

Date: 08.09.23

Venue: Ground Area, Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar

Objectives:

- To facilitate the collection of blood and support local blood banks
- To encourage voluntary blood donation and raise awareness about its importance
- To engage students, staff, and the local community in a health-promoting initiative
- To strengthen the partnership between Vivek P.G. College and the Community Health Centre

Brief Report:

The Blood Donation Camp organized by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar in collaboration with Community Health Centre, Kalwar, was a successful initiative that met its objectives of supporting the local blood supply and promoting community health. The event demonstrated effective collaboration between the college and the health centre, and its positive impact on the community underscores the importance of such health-promoting activities. 1400 units of blood were successfully collected. Donors underwent a preliminary health check before donation to ensure their fitness. The process was managed efficiently by medical staff from CHC, Kalwar. Basic health check-ups including blood pressure measurement, blood glucose testing, and general health consultations were offered. Participants were provided with advice on maintaining a healthy lifestyle and managing common health issues.

Outcomes:

- The camp contributed to the local community's health by providing essential medical services and increasing the availability of blood for emergencies.
- The event successfully raised awareness about the importance of health check-ups and voluntary blood donation, encouraging more people to participate in such initiatives.
- The partnership with Health Centre and the involvement of Scout and Guide enhanced the effectiveness and reach of the camp.

Report on Ozone Day: Popularizing Ozone Protection conducted by Vivek P. G. College, Kalwar

Date: 16.09.23

Venue: Vivek P G College, Kalwar, Jaipur

Objectives:

- To educate the students and public about the importance of ozone layer protection and the harmful effects of ozone depletion
- encourage individuals, organization and government adopt practices that reduce ozone – depleting substance and promote sustainable development

Brief Report:

A group of students and faculty members visited the Biological Park, where they had the opportunity to observe ongoing research related to ozone layer monitoring and protection. The visit included guided tours of the facility, demonstrations of scientific instruments used for ozone measurement, and discussions with researchers about their work on ozone depletion and recovery. The Zoology Head provided an in-depth overview of the science behind ozone layer depletion, its effects on climate and health, and the international agreements aimed at addressing the issue, such as the Montreal Protocol. The session included interactive elements such as Q&A and discussions on how individual actions can contribute to ozone protection. Participants engaged in a workshop that involved practical exercises related to environmental protection. Activities included creating models of the atmosphere to demonstrate how ozone depletion occurs, and developing campaigns to raise awareness about ozone-friendly practices. The workshop aimed to translate theoretical knowledge into practical actions and solutions. The day ended with a reflection and feedback session where participants shared their experiences and insights gained from the visit.

Outcomes:

- Greater awareness about the impact of ozone-depleting substances (ODS) and how everyday actions can affect the ozone layer.
- Increased adoption of practices and products that do not harm the ozone layer, such as using ozone-safe refrigerants and avoiding products with high levels of ODS.
- Strengthened collaboration between local governments, environmental organizations, schools, and the community to promote and implement ozone protection measures.

Report on Menstrual Hygiene Management Campaign in conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar in collaboration with Gram Panchayat, Kalwar

Date: 23.09.23

Venue: Gram Panchayat, Kalwar

Objectives:

- To educate the community about menstrual hygiene and health
- To address and dismantle the stigma surrounding menstruation
- To distribute menstrual hygiene products and information to those in need
- To encourage the adoption of healthy menstrual hygiene practices

Brief Report:

The opening ceremony included speeches highlighting the importance of menstrual hygiene and the collaborative effort between the college and the Gram Panchayat. The event set the tone for the day's activities and emphasized the need for community engagement. Topics covered included menstrual health basics, the importance of hygiene, safe practices, and the environmental impact of menstrual products. Volunteers from the college and the Gram Panchayat conducted outreach programs in different parts of Kalwar. A special interactive session was held for the youth, focusing on breaking myths and stigma associated with menstruation. Activities included role-playing, group discussions, and creative workshops to help young people feel more comfortable discussing and managing menstrual health. The day concluded with a feedback and reflection session where participants shared their experiences and provided input on the campaign. The session helped assess the impact of the campaign and gather suggestions for future initiatives.

Outcomes:

- The campaign successfully increased awareness about menstrual hygiene, with many participants reporting a better understanding of menstrual health.
- Feedback from participants indicated a high level of satisfaction with the workshops and resources provided.
- The distribution of menstrual hygiene products met a significant need in the community, particularly among those with limited access.
- The campaign fostered greater community engagement and encouraged ongoing discussions about menstrual health and hygiene.

Report on Cleanliness Drive conducted by Vivek P. G. College, Kalwar

Date: 17.10.23

Venue: Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar

Objectives:

- To enhance the cleanliness and hygiene of the college campus.
- To engage the college community in maintaining a clean and healthy environment.
- To raise awareness about the importance of cleanliness and environmental stewardship.

Brief Report:

The Cleanliness Drive commenced with an inauguration ceremony held at the college campus. Students were organized into teams and assigned specific areas of the campus, including classrooms, corridors, gardens, and common areas. Students were guided on proper waste disposal methods, including the separation of recyclable and non-recyclable materials. The collected waste was properly disposed of in collaboration with local waste management services. Short educational sessions were conducted throughout the day to inform participants about effective waste management practices and the environmental impact of maintaining cleanliness. At the end of the drive, a feedback session was held where participants shared their experiences and suggestions for future initiatives. The feedback provided valuable insights into the effectiveness of the drive and areas for improvement.

Outcomes:

- A significant improvement in the overall cleanliness of the college campus
- Raised awareness among students about the importance of maintaining cleanliness and proper waste management
- A deeper understanding of environmental issues
- Fostered a sense of community and collective responsibility
- Contributed to a positive and collaborative atmosphere within the college

Report on Blood Donation Camp and Medical Checkup conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar in collaboration with Balaji Hospital, Sirsi

Date: 23.03.24

Venue: Ground Area, Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar

Objectives:

- To facilitate the collection of blood and support local blood banks
- To encourage voluntary blood donation and raise awareness about its importance
- To engage students, staff, and the local community in a health-promoting initiative
- To strengthen the partnership between Vivek P.G. College and the Balaji Hospital, Sirsi

Brief Report:

The blood donation camp, which was arranged by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar, in association with Balaji Hospital, Sirsi, was a triumphant endeavor that fulfilled its goals of bolstering the nearby blood supply and advancing public health. The occasion showed how well the institution and the health center collaborated, and its beneficial effects on the neighborhood highlight how important these kinds of health-promoting initiatives are. A total of 400 units of blood were effectively obtained. Before making a donation, donors had a baseline physical examination to make sure they were healthy. The medical personnel from medical staff handled the process with efficiency. There were general health consultations, blood pressure checks, blood glucose tests, and other basic health checkups available. Participants received guidance on common health issues and how to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

Outcomes:

- The camp contributed to the local community's health by providing essential medical services and increasing the availability of blood for emergencies.
- The event successfully raised awareness about the importance of health check-ups and voluntary blood donation, encouraging more people to participate in such initiatives.
- The partnership with Balaji Hospital and the involvement of Scout and Guide enhanced the effectiveness and reach of the camp.

Report on World No Tobacco Day conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar in collaboration with Choudhary Pinkcity Senior Secondary School, Manchawa, Jaipur

Date: 06.05.24

Time: 9 am onwards

Venue: Vivek P G College, Kalwar, Jaipur

Objective:

The primary goal of the event was to raise awareness about the harmful effects of tobacco use and to promote a tobacco-free lifestyle among students and the community.

Brief Report:

The event commenced with an inaugural ceremony where the Director addressed the attendees. Their speeches highlighted the global impact of tobacco use and the importance of supporting anti-tobacco initiatives. Interactive sessions were held where students shared their personal experiences and insights about tobacco use. An awareness campaign was launched, including the distribution of informative pamphlets, posters, and banners. Students participated in creating and displaying posters with anti-tobacco messages and slogans. At the conclusion of the event, participants took a pledge to remain tobacco-free and to support efforts to reduce tobacco use within their communities.

Outcomes:

The event successfully raised awareness about the dangers of tobacco use and engaged the participants in meaningful activities aimed at promoting a healthier lifestyle.

Feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing a greater understanding of the risks associated with tobacco and a commitment to advocating for tobacco-free environments.

Report on Community Service by NSS and Scout and Guide conducted by Vivek P.G. College, Kalwar

Date: 21.05.24

Time: 10 am onwards

Venue: Vivek P G College, Kalwar, Jaipur

Objectives:

The primary objective of the community service event was to engage students in meaningful activities that benefit the local community, foster a spirit of service and collaboration, and strengthen community ties.

Brief Report:

The event began with an inaugural ceremony, where leaders from both institutions addressed the attendees, emphasizing the importance of community service and the role of youth in driving social change. A major component of the event was a community clean-up drive. Volunteers, including NSS members and Scouts, worked together to clean public spaces. This effort aimed to improve the environment and raise awareness about waste management.

To promote environmental sustainability, a tree plantation drive was carried out. Volunteers planted trees in designated areas and educated the community about the benefits of trees and the importance of green spaces. A feedback and reflection session was held where participants shared their experiences and insights from the day's activities. This session helped to evaluate the impact of the event and provided valuable input for future community service initiatives.

Outcomes:

The community service event was successful in engaging students in meaningful service activities and making a tangible difference in the local community. Participants reported a heightened sense of accomplishment and a deeper understanding of the importance of community service. Feedback from community members was positive, with many expressing gratitude for the support and improvements made through the various activities.
